

Focus on Innovation Series 2012

Celebrating Manufacturing & Innovation in Connecticut

You're Invited to:

A Visit with Lex Products Corp featuring a Special University of Connecticut Presentation on "The Connecticut Economy"

presented by

Lex Products, 15 Progress Drive, Shelton

Lex Products is a leading U.S. manufacturer of innovative power distribution and control systems for markets including entertainment, industrial and the military. The company is ranked on the Inc. 5000 as the 77th fastest-growing manufacturing company in the country. Lex Products holds numerous U.S. Patents and has won numerous awards for innovation and technology.

The company's flagship products are portable power distribution units in rubber enclosures. The company recently invested in state-of-the-art injection rubber molding equipment to strengthen its position and prepare for growth. This brand new equipment will be featured during factory tours following the presentation.

Presentation: Steve Lanza, Executive Editor, The Connecticut Economy

University of Connecticut Department of Economics

UConn economics expert Steve Lanza will give a presentation on the current state of Connecticut's economy and an overview of the state's strong position in manufacturing. The presentation will provide economic data including the concentration of manufacturing activity across Connecticut towns, along with a report card on Connecticut's leadership in the manufacturing industry compared with other states.

Dr. Lanza will share insights from the latest edition of The Connecticut Economy, a quarterly publication that provides substantive, data-driven analyses of current events, trends and public policies that affect the Connecticut economy. This edition of the quarterly will include a byline by Lex Products' CEO, Bob Luther on what it takes to run a successful manufacturing company.

Please join us for this presentation on the Connecticut economy, followed by a tour of Lex Products' state-of-the-art manufacturing facility.
